A Psalm of Life.

BY LONGFELLOW. Tell me not in mournful numbers

Life is but an empty dream! For the soul is dead that slumbers And things are not what they seem Life is real! Life is earnest!

And the grave is not its goal: "Dust thou art, to dust returnest," Was not written of the soul.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow. Is our destined end and way. But to act, that each to-morrow Find us further than to-day.

Art is long, and time is fleeting, And our hearts, though stout and brave, Still, like muffled drums, are beating Funeral marches to the grave.

In the world's broad field of battle. In the bivounc of the life, Be not like dumb, driven fattle Be a here in the strife.

Trust no Future, how e'er pleasant. Let the dead Past bury is dead! Act!-act in the living Present! Heart within, and God o'er head

Lives of great men all remind us We can make our lives sublime, And, departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time; Footprints, that perhaps another,

Sailing o'er life's solemn main, A forlorn and shipwrecked brother, Seei og, shall take heart again, Let us, then, be up and doing.

Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait.
